

INDEX

Note: The Index in Wrightslaw: No Child Left Behind is for the print version of the book and the CD-ROM.

If the subject has a page number listed adjacent to the entry, then it can be found in the print version. If it simply lists a section of the United States Code (U.S.C.) you will not find that entry in the print version, but it will be on the CD-ROM.

If the print version of this book included all of the No Child Left Behind Act, the book would be about one and a half feet thick. For this reason, we decided to include the CD-ROM. The print book includes specific chapters to help you understand and navigate No Child Left Behind and Title I of No Child Left Behind. The remaining Titles II through Title X, are located on the CD-ROM.

For example, Scientifically Based Reading Research is defined and discussed in Title I. It is in this Index with a specific page number and statute. You can locate it in the print version. However, the broader term, Scientifically Based Research, is not defined in Title I, but is discussed in elsewhere in the United States Code under Title IX, General Provisions, Definitions, at 20 U.S.C. 7801. You will find both Scientifically Based Reading Research and Scientifically Based Research in the United States Code in the CD-ROM, but you will only find Scientifically Based Reading Research in the print version.

Learn how to use the “Find” and “Search” provisions in your CD-ROM with the binocular icon, and Edit, Find and the shortcuts of “Control,” letter “f” and then “Control and “g” to repeat and continue searching that entry.
