

PAMELA DARR WRIGHT, M.A., M. S. W.
LICENSED CLINICAL SOCIAL WORKER

Pamela Wright is a psychotherapist who has worked with children and families for more than 30 years. Her training and experience in clinical psychology and clinical social work give her a unique perspective on parent-child-school dynamics, problems, and solutions. She sees clients in mental health centers, family guidance and psychiatric clinics, correctional institutions, hospitals, and schools.

Pamela Wright earned an undergraduate degree in Psychology and a Master's degree in Clinical Psychology from East Carolina University. For ten years, she worked as a clinical psychologist in North Carolina. She returned to graduate school and in 1985, earned a Master's Degree in Clinical Social Work from Virginia Commonwealth University, graduating summa cum laude. She has received many honors and awards during her academic career and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She has written several articles about raising, educating and advocating for children with disabilities.

Pam and Pete Wright were Adjunct Professors of Law at the William and Mary Law School where they taught a course about special education law and advocacy and assisted with the Law School's Special Education Law Clinic. Pete and Pam are co-founders and faculty at the William and Mary Law School Institute of Special Education Advocacy (ISEA). They are the founders of Wrightslaw, the #1 ranked website about special education law.

Pam designed and built several special education advocacy sites including Wrightslaw.com, Fetaweb.com and the Yellow Pages for Kids with Disabilities.

She is the primary author of the Wright's best selling law books, Wrightslaw: Special Education Law, Wrightslaw: From Emotions to Advocacy, Wrightslaw: All About IEPs and Wrightslaw: All About Tests and Assessments. She is the managing editor of The Special Ed Advocate newsletter and the designer of several special education websites.
