IDEA–Reauthorized Statute Changes¹

I. PROCEDURAL SAFEGUARDS REGARDING SURROGATES, NOTICE AND CONSENT

The reauthorized Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) was signed into law on Dec. 3, 2004, by President George W. Bush. The provisions of the act will be effective on July 1, 2005, with the exception of some elements of the definition of "highly qualified teacher" that took effect upon the signing of the act. This is one in a series of documents, prepared by the Office of Special Education and Rehabilitative Services (OSERS) in the U.S. Department of Education, that covers a variety of high-interest topics and brings together the statutory language related to those topics to support constituents in preparing to implement the new requirements. This document addresses only the changes to the procedural safeguards regarding notice to parents, provisions related to surrogate parents, and parental consent of IDEA that will take effect on July 1, 2005. It does not address any changes that may be made by the final regulations.

In the case of a child who is a ward of the state, a surrogate parent may alternatively be appointed by the judge overseeing the child's care, provided that the surrogate meets the requirements of Section 615(b)(2). [615(b)(2)(A)(i)]

In the case of an unaccompanied homeless youth as defined in Section 725(6) of the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act [42 U.S.C. 11434a(6)], the local educational agency (LEA) shall appoint a surrogate in accordance with Section 615(b)(2). [615(b)(2)(A)(ii)]

The state shall make reasonable efforts to ensure the assignment of a surrogate not more than 30 days after there is a determination by the agency that the child needs a surrogate. [615(b)(2)(B)]

A parent of a child with a disability may elect to receive notices required under this section by an electronic mail (e-mail) communication, if the agency makes such option available. [615(n)]

5. Specifies that LEAs may not use Section 615 remedies to obtain consent for services. If the parent of a child [with a disability] refuses to consent [to special education and related services], the LEA shall not provide special education and related services to the child by utilizing the procedures described in Section 615. [614(a)(1)(D)(ii)(II)]

[However,] the agency shall not be required to obtain informed consent from the parent of a child for an initial evaluation to determine whether the child is a child with a disability if:

- Despite reasonable efforts to do so, the agency cannot discover the whereabouts of the parent of the child;
- The rights of the parents of the child have been terminated in accordance with state law; or
- The rights of the parent to make educational decisions have been subrogated by a judge in accordance with state law, and consent for an initial evaluation has been given by an individual appointed by the judge to represent the child.
