

PAMELA DARR WRIGHT, M.A., M. S. W.
LICENSED CLINICAL SOCIAL WORKER

Pamela Wright is a psychotherapist who has worked with children and families for more than 30 years. Her training and experience in clinical psychology and clinical social work give her a unique perspective on parent-child-school dynamics, problems, and solutions. She sees clients in mental health centers, family guidance and psychiatric clinics, correctional institutions, hospitals, and schools.

Pamela Wright earned an undergraduate degree in Psychology and a Master's degree in Clinical Psychology from East Carolina University. For ten years, she worked as a clinical psychologist in North Carolina. She returned to graduate school and in 1985, earned a Master's Degree in Clinical Social Work from Virginia Commonwealth University, graduating summa cum laude. She has received many honors and awards during her academic career and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She has written several articles about raising, educating and advocating for children with disabilities.

She is the primary author of the Wright's two best selling special education law books, Wrightslaw: Special Education Law, and Wrightslaw: From Emotions to Advocacy, in addition to being the editor and webpage designer of their special education websites.