Pete Wright is an attorney who represents children with special educational needs. In second grade, Pete was diagnosed with learning disabilities, including dyslexia, dysgraphia and ADHD. He was fortunate—his learning problems were identified early. His parents obtained intensive Orton Gillingham remediation. Pete is the co-author of Wrightslaw: Special Education Law, Wrightslaw: No Child Left Behind, Wrightslaw: IDEA 2004, Wrightslaw: From Emotions to Advocacy, and Wrightslaw: All About IEPs. He appeared as the parent's attorney in the award-winning DVD video, Surviving Due Process: When Parents and the School Board Disagree—Stephen Jeffers v. School Board (2004). Pete and Pam Wright are advisors at the William and Mary Law School's Special Education Law Clinic (PELE). They are founders of Wrightslaw, the #1 ranked website about education law, special education law and special education advocacy.

Wrightslaw Conferences are attended around the United States and SELL OUT FAST!

This one-day workshop will provide participants an intensive training with an over-view of Special Education law and strategies to become active advocates for their children. This training will also include new developments with IDEA 2004, the regulations, No Child Left Behind and Supreme Court cases. As well as address specific laws pertaining to the State of Connecticut.
