Pete Wright is an attorney who represents children with special needs. Pete struggled with learning disabilities, including dyslexia, dysgraphia and ADHD. His determination to help children grew out of his own educational experiences. Pam Wright is a psychotherapist with training in psychology and clinical social work. She is the co-author of Wrightslaw: Special Education Law and Wrightslaw: From Emotions to Advocacy, and publishes The Special Ed Advocate, the online newsletter about special education legal and advocacy issues.

The Learning Disabilities Association of Hawaii (LDAH) and its Parent Training and Information Project (AWARE) serve the State of Hawaii providing a range of educational and advocacy services to parents of children with any disability and to the professionals who work with those children.

The East Hawaii Community Children's Council (EHCCC) was created by the Felix Consent Decree and provides a forum for families, local communities, private agencies, and the State. Members of the EHCCC work together to develop educational, social and behavioral programs for children and adolescents with special needs.
