About our Presenters

Peter W. D. Wright, Esq.
Attorney

Pete Wright was a student who coped with learning disabilities and symptoms of ADHD throughout his education. He attended Randolph-Macon College in Virginia as an undergraduate and, after working in the juvenile justice system, he obtained his law degree from the University of Richmond. He has practiced in the area of special education law for the last 25 years. In 1993, he argued before the United States Supreme Court, and won an unanimous landmark decision in Florence County School District Four v. Shannon Carter. He is a member of the National Council of Parents, Attorneys and Advocates.

Pamela Darr Wright, M.A., M.S.W.
Licensed Clinical Social Worker

Pamela Wright was educated at Eastern Carolina University and Virginia Commonwealth University, where she graduated Summa Cum Laude. She holds dual Masters degrees in Clinical Psychology and Clinical Social Work. Her more than 30 years of work in these fields gives her a unique perspective on parent-child-school dynamics, solutions and quality of life.

Pam is the primary author of the books Wrightslaw: Special Education Law, and From Emotions to Advocacy, (co-authored with Pete Wright), and the designer of the wrightslaw.com website. She has written numerous articles about raising,
