Wrightslaw: From Emotions to Advocacy

Harbor House Law Press advises that Wrightslaw: From Emotions to Advocacy is at the printer. Bluelines have been approved. Harbor House will receive the book in two to three weeks.

Wrightslaw: From Emotions to Advocacy (ISBN: 1-892320-08-8, 382 pages) teaches information and skills. Pete and Pam Wright take readers on a trip through the special education system, stopping to explain the playing field, rules of the game, and issues that make parent-school conflict inevitable.

Readers will learn about the child's disability, how the disability affects the child, and appropriate educational and remediation techniques; about tests and measurements, how to measure educational progress, and how to write SMART IEP goals and objectives.

In From Emotions to Advocacy, Pete and Pam teach tactics and strategies to prevent problems or resolve problems early. Readers will learn about parent-school conflict, how to deal with difficult people, how to create paper trails, write letters, and use worksheets to prepare for meetings.

From Emotions to Advocacy includes forms, worksheets, and sample letters that you can adopt to your situation.

From Emotions to Advocacy (FETA) is more than a book. FETA has a companion web site called FetaWeb .com that is under construction. Readers can download articles, reference information, worksheets, forms, and tip sheets from the FetaWeb site.
